David Barnouw (1949) is an independent scholar and emeritus researcher at the Dutch Institute for War, Holocaust and Genocide Studies. His areas of interest are the Second World War in Europe, documentaries, memory, representation, monuments & museums. He has written more than fifteen books and dozens of articles on World War II subjects. He has given lectures at Berkeley, Columbia, Cornell, Harvard, Princeton, Rutgers, UCLA, WestPoint etc. He has been visiting professor at the University of Vermont in Burlington (2008 and 2012). He is a renowned expert on Anne Frank and follows her emergence as a global phenomenon and what this means for her historical person as well as for her legacy as a symbol of the Holocaust. The update of his book Who betrayed Anne Frank? (2003) will be published in March as Anne Frank en het verraad.

His book The Phenomenon of Anne Frank (originally in Dutch) was translated in German and was published in 2018 by Indiana University Press in 2015 and by Hoepli in Italian in 2021.
